HOW BITCOIN WORKS

Bitcoin is built on a distributed digital record called a blockchain. As the name implies, blockchain is a linked body of data, made up of units called blocks containing information about each transaction, including date and time, total value, buyer and seller, and a unique identifying code for each exchange. Entries are strung together in chronological order, creating a digital chain of blocks.

Once you've installed a Bitcoin wallet on your computer or mobile phone, it will generate your first Bitcoin address and you can create more whenever you need one.

You can also use a service that allows you to connect a debit card to your crypto account, meaning you can use Bitcoin the same way you'd use a credit card. This also generally involves a financial provider instantly converting your Bitcoin into dollars.

Big companies that accept Bitcoin include Microsoft, PayPal and Whole Foods, to name a few. You may also find that some small local retailers or certain websites take Bitcoin, but you'll have to do some digging.

You can disclose your addresses to your friends so that they can pay you or vice versa. In fact, this is pretty similar to how email works, except that Bitcoin addresses should be used only once.

WHY CHOOSE US

Recurring Buying

We engage in recurrent buying. Once we notice a pattern on a certain asset, we lock in trades to make recurrent buying.

Instant Trading

All our dealings are transparent as our clients can see all their live trades which we make on their behalf in real time.

Investment Planning

Our wealth of experience has seen us make very good trading decisions over the years.

Covered By Insurance

We are well insured against loss. This means that all our client's funds are safe and we are covered by insurance.

Safe and Secure

All our trade decisions are precise and secure. We put the security of our clients funds before anything else.

Bitcoin Transaction

We perform our transactions with bitcoin. This is because the blockchain is a safe, secure and de-centralised system.

KNOW MORE ABOUT BITCOIN

ABOUT CRYPTOCURRENCY

What is Cryptocurrency? A cryptocurrency is a digital currency, which is an alternative form of payment created using encryption algorithms. The use of encryption technologies means that cryptocurrencies function both as a currency and as a virtual accounting system. To use cryptocurrencies, you need a cryptocurrency wallet.

These wallets can be software that is a cloud-based service or is stored on your computer or on your mobile device. The wallets are the tool through which you store your encryption keys that confirm your identity and link to your cryptocurrency.

• Cryptocurrency comes under many names. You have probably read about some of the most popular types of cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin, Litecoin, and Ethereum. Cryptocurrencies are increasingly popular alternatives for online payments. Before converting real dollars, euros, pounds, or other traditional currencies into ₿ (the symbol for Bitcoin, the most popular cryptocurrency), you should understand what cryptocurrencies are, what the risks are in using cryptocurrencies, and how to protect your investment.

• Look before you leap! Before investing in a cryptocurrency, be sure you understand how it works, where it can be used, and how to exchange it. Read the webpages for the currency itself (such as Ethereum, Bitcoin or Litecoin) so that you fully understand how it works, and read independent articles on the cryptocurrencies you are considering as well.
